Quantum Science and Technology

ABOUT QUANTUM CITY

Quantum City is building an ecosystem for quantum science and technology in Alberta by bringing together researchers, developers and adopters of quantum technology and services.

Quantum City is establishing quantum technology enabling infrastructure, creating a pipeline for talent and experts and narrowing the gap between quantum technology solutions to support the development of a vibrant economic and scientific hub based in Calgary.

These combined assets will create a unique and once-in-a-generation opportunity to position Alberta as a national and international jurisdiction in the new quantum economy.

qCONNECT SUMMIT SERIES

qConnect 2025 is the premier industry event for quantum technology, bringing together businesses, tech creators, startups, government and investors to transform ideas into impact.

As part of the International Year of Quantum Science and Technology, qConnect features insightful talks, expert panels and strategic networking opportunities. More than just connections, qConnect drives collaboration and action to shape the future of quantum.

I was deeply inspired by the vibrant quantum community. The collaboration & passion for innovation was truly remarkable. Thanks to Quantum City for putting on such an enlightening and enriching event.”
